Hypersoft Informationssysteme GmbH Wins Apex Award 2003 for Lotus

Munich, 2 May 2003. Penton Technology Media, a division of Penton Media, Inc., recently announced the finalists for the second annual e-Pro Magazine Apex Awards for Lotus. Now, all winners were named at The View ADMIN 2003 in Las Vegas, Nevada. Both Editor's and Reader's Choice awards were presented in seven categories.

"The Apex Awards recognize industry leaders who have made valuable contributions to their customers and the market," said Wayne Madden, publisher of e-Pro Magazine.

The German-based Hypersoft Information Systems is pleased to be this year's winner in the Editors' Choice Messaging, Collaboration, and Commerce category. This fact proves once again the value of OmniAnalyser™ solution to today's businesses that want to save costs and extract most value from their e-mail system by establishing a powerful and innovative tool for comprehensible messaging reporting and infrastructure analysis for the enterprise.

OmniAnalyser™ stays the only solution on the market today, which provides its comprehensible reporting capabilities across four platforms: Lotus Domino/Notes, Microsoft Exchange, iPlanet (Sun ONE Integration Server), and Sendmail, and can therefore serve the needs of almost any company putting value into its e-mail system.

Hypersoft presents the most recent versions of its OmniAnalyser™ and OmniContext™ Reporting Server software at the IBM Symposium in Munich (May 19-23). For more information contact us (information@hypersoft.com) or visit our website at www.hypersoft.com.
