

Hypersoft Releases New OmniAnalyser™ Standard Edition

Munich, 17 September 2003. Hypersoft Informationssysteme GmbH announced the availability of OmniAnalyser™ Standard Edition – the light version of its comprehensive messaging reporting and analysis solution for Microsoft Exchange, Lotus Domino/Notes, Sun ONE Integration Server (iPlanet) and Sendmail.

OmniAnalyser™ Standard Edition is specially designed for companies whose e-mail organization has no more than five mail or applications servers, and whose business needs require fast and low-cost reporting and monitoring via ready-to-use web reports. Standard Edition is easily installed with no client on the mail servers, and is easy to maintain, thus giving the user a minimal TCO and fast ROI value.

The tasks, which OmniAnalyser™ reports will do for the Administrator include reporting about the sizes and limits of databases on the servers, top users and applications that use the company's bandwidth and storage, analysis of the mail flow coming from the Internet and generated within the company. Attachments, subject lines and names and types of most popular viruses allow making transparent and easily manageable the usage and contents of the company's e-mail. Business users of the Hypersoft reports include E-mail Administrators, IT Managers, Security Managers, and Billing Departments who use the received reports to charge units on e-mail and storage usage. All the information is delivered to end users automatically, either sent by mail, or published to the company's intranet with custom security assigned for different user levels.
