Hypersoft's OmniAnalyser™ on Display at Microsoft TechEd 2006

Hypersoft (<http://www.hypersoft.com>) is a world-wide leading provider of complete metrics for the analysis of Business and IT Service Management. As a Microsoft certified Gold Partner, Hypersoft will be exhibiting at Microsoft TechEd 2006. Microsoft TechEd is a showcase for technical training and networking for Microsoft partners, industry professionals and Microsoft experts.

Hypersoft will be presenting the latest version of OmniAnalyser™, the software which is used by some of the world's largest organizations for: Service Management, Regulatory Compliance, IT & Corporate Governance, Service Level Agreements, Billing & Charge back data and to streamline IT and Business Operations.

"Our innovative products are developed using different Microsoft development tools and technologies. For example: Visual Studio 2005, the Microsoft .NET Framework 2.0, ASP.NET 2.0, Visual C++ 2005, C#, Visual SourceSafe and the Office 2003 Editions. Hypersoft's products are deployed to our customers by leveraging different Microsoft platforms and products, such as: Exchange Server 2003, SQL Server 2005, Windows SharePoint Services, Internet Information Services (IIS) 7.0, Windows XP, Windows Server 2003 R2 and Office Live Communications Server 2005," says Yuri Ivanov, Product Manager of Hypersoft.
"OmniAnalyser™ is the only platform which delivers a homogeneous view of IT services across all of Microsoft's applications. Instead of delivering a separate piece of software for each monitored application, Hypersoft integrates all the data into one perspective and one database."

You are welcome to visit Hypersoft at booth #954 at Microsoft TechEd 2006.
